

Today in Georgia History
October 17, 1932
Paul Anderson

Vocabulary List

Bright's disease
Championship
Cold War
Conquering
Derrick
Records

Glossary

Bright's disease: noun; a common inflammation of the kidneys named after Richard Bright, the British physician who first described it.

Championship: noun; a series of competitions or contest to determine a winner of all defeated opponents.

Cold War: noun; rivalry after World War II between the Soviet Union and its satellites and the democratic countries of the Western world, under the leadership of the United States.

Conquering: verb; to gain a victory over; win, overcome.

Derrick: noun; a crane used for raising and lowering heavy material.

Records: noun; the highest or best rate or amount ever attained, especially in sports.